

PRESS RELEASE

Idaho Falls Arts Council presents Black Violin

Idaho Falls, ID, October 24, 2018:

The Idaho Falls Arts Council is pleased to present Black Violin on November 13, 2018 at 7:30pm at the Colonial Theater.

Black Violin is made up of violist and violinist Wil B. and Kev Marcus, who combine their classical training with hip-hop influences to create a distinctive multi-genre sound described as Classical Boom.

Black Violin has been featured on ESPN, The Tonight Show, Ellen, NPR, and more. Their most recent album Stereotypes hit #1 on Billboard's Classical Crossover Chart and #4 on Billboard's R&B Chart.

"Every year as we plan our season we look for artists that are tremendously talented and have something unique to offer. Black Violin offer both in droves," said Brandi Newton, Executive Director of the Idaho Falls Arts Council.

Tickets are $25-40 and are available at 208-522-0471 or idahofallsarts.org

In addition to the public show, Black Violin will be performing a student matinee for 1000 local students.

Season Sponsor: Fluor Idaho

Show Sponsors: Kerry Martin, Kelly Alvarez, Jane Welsh, Battelle Energy Alliance Operator of Idaho National Laboratory, Alice Pike and Ken Krell, Kevin and Lisa King of Edward Jones

Education Support: Bob and Nancy Carpenedo, Alan and Lexie French

The Idaho Falls Arts Council is a private nonprofit organization which owns and operates: ARTitorium on Broadway, The Colonial Theater, and the Willard Arts Center. The mission of IFAC, in cooperation with other arts organizations, is to educate our community and enrich its quality of life by promoting, advocating, and presenting a broad spectrum of visual and performing arts in eastern Idaho.

For questions regarding information contained in this release, please contact Amy Carr, Marketing Manager, at acarr@idahofallsarts.org or at 208-522-0471