Idaho Falls Arts Council presents: The Portland Cello Project

Idaho Falls, ID, February 25, 2016:

Idaho Falls Arts Council is pleased to present The Portland Cello Project at the Colonial Theater on March 18th at 7:30pm.

The Portland Cello Project uses an arrangement of several cellos, percussionists, horns, and more to play everything from classical music to pop and hip hop hits. Known for blending and blurring genres, everything from Taylor Swift and Kanye West before heading back to traditional cello pieces and some indie tunes, no two shows are the same. Portland Cello project is constantly striving to build bridges between musical communities and encourage music education.

“The mixture of music they play makes this show enjoyable and accessible for any music lover,” said Brandi Newton, Executive Director of the Idaho Falls Arts Council, “They are the perfect example to students that once you have all of the classical skills, you can take music into so many different and unique directions.”

Tickets are available through the Idaho Falls Arts Council at the box office at 498 A St. in downtown Idaho Falls, by phone at 208-522-0471, or online at idahofallsarts.org. Tickets are $30 and $35.

The Portland Cello Project will also be performing a student matinee for schools.
